

Office Design for Movie Co. Completed

The design for a 5,000-square-foot office in Burlington for Walden Media, the film studio behind "The Chronicles of Narnia" and "Journey to the Center of the Earth," has been completed.

Walden Media relocated from downtown Boston to the new space in September. Margulies Perruzzi Architects of Boston redesigned the space to include offices and open areas for workstations, a staff lounge, a screening room and a videoconferencing room to communicate with the firm's office in Los Angeles.
