

Margulies & Associates Takes Home Two National Awards from Buildings Magazine

The State Room

The Coyle Company

BOSTON, Mass. – August 2, 2006 – Margulies & Associates, one of Boston’s most innovative architectural and interior design firms, announced today that it was the recipient of two Awards in the Buildings Interiors category from Buildings Magazine for its work at The State Room and the Coyle Company.

The firm’s design of a dramatic new entrance lobby and ballroom renovation for The State Room’s Harborside Salon received a Citation of Excellence. Project Manager Jennifer Latto, NCIDQ, accepted the award on behalf of Margulies & Associates at the Buildings Awards luncheon, June 13, 2006, in Chicago during NeoCon World’s Trade Fair.

“Margulies & Associates delighted us with a very creative solution, especially when it came to interesting resources for materials and finishes. We wanted to go beyond the ordinary for The State Room and they certainly delivered. The resulting design was not the most predictable,” stated Alina Apteker, owner of Longwood Events.

Interior renovations by the firm for The Coyle Company garnered Project Innovations recognition in the Buildings Interiors category. “Margulies & Associates did an incredible job. There is such a great sense of color and proportion in the design of the space,” said Janet Coyle, president of The Coyle Company.

“All projects receiving Project Innovations recognition were carefully reviewed, critiqued, and ranked by the judging committee of editors, facilities managers, architects, and interior designers. We had many fine projects submitted this year – making the judging process very difficult and time-consuming,” said Linda Monroe, editorial director at Buildings Magazine. “We congratulate Margulies & Associates on its fine work for The State Room and The Coyle Company.”

“Recognition from our peers is the highest honor possible and we are pleased to accept these two awards,” said Marc Margulies, AIA, principal at Margulies & Associates. “We pride ourselves on listening closely to and working collaboratively with our clients in order to create interiors that reflect their unique culture and personality.”
